HOUSEHOLD HUMAN RESOURCES • ANNUAL REVIEW

PERFORMANCE REVIEW: FATHER

Ask a partner for each part of speech below before reading the evaluation aloud!

Over the past year, Dad has demonstrated a/an _____ (ADJECTIVE) commitment to household operations, particularly in the department of thermostat security. He successfully detected unauthorized temperature adjustments from _____ (NUMBER) rooms away and responded within _____ (NUMBER) seconds while wearing his signature _____ (ARTICLE OF CLOTHING). His ability to fall asleep on the _____ (PIECE OF FURNITURE) while claiming he is "just resting his _____ (PART OF THE BODY (PLURAL))" remains truly _____ (ADJECTIVE).

In the area of weekend projects, Dad's enthusiasm for _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") the garage is unmatched, even though it requires _____ (NUMBER) separate trips to the hardware store for a single _____ (NOUN). During family road trips, he consistently refuses to ask for _____ (PLURAL NOUN), insisting he knows a shortcut past the _____ (ADJECTIVE) _____ (ANIMAL) farm.

For next year's goals, management recommends telling fewer _____ (ADJECTIVE) jokes at the dinner table and _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") the grill tongs at least twice before flipping _____ (TYPE OF FOOD). Overall, Dad earns a bonus of three _____ (PLURAL NOUN) and our eternal gratitude for always being our family's _____ (NOUN).

HOUSEHOLD HUMAN RESOURCES • ANNUAL REVIEW

PERFORMANCE REVIEW: MOTHER

Ask a partner for each part of speech below before reading the evaluation aloud!

Mom continues to serve as Chief Executive Officer of locating missing _____ (PLURAL NOUN) that everyone else swore did not exist. Using her _____ (ADJECTIVE) vision, she located _____ (NUMBER) lost keys, a left _____ (ARTICLE OF CLOTHING), and an overdue library _____ (NOUN) within twelve seconds of walking into a room. Her purse remains a/an _____ (ADJECTIVE) survival kit stocked with tissues, snacks, and emergency _____ (PLURAL NOUN).

In communication, Mom excels at _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") everyone's schedules while simultaneously _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") dinner. However, when she says, "Don't worry about getting me anything for my birthday, I just want a/an _____ (ADJECTIVE) afternoon," our committee advises proceeding with _____ (ADJECTIVE) caution and buying her _____ (PLURAL NOUN) anyway.

Moving forward, we encourage Mom to stop _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") before company arrives just so the house looks like a/an _____ (PLACE). She is awarded an all-expenses-paid evening of sipping _____ (LIQUID) in complete peace and quiet without hearing the word "_____ (EXCLAMATION)!"

HOUSEHOLD HUMAN RESOURCES • ANNUAL REVIEW

PERFORMANCE REVIEW: SIBLING

Ask a partner for each part of speech below before reading the evaluation aloud!

This year, your sibling has maintained a/an _____ (ADJECTIVE) reputation for borrowing your favorite _____ (ARTICLE OF CLOTHING) without asking and returning it smelling faintly of _____ (TYPE OF FOOD). When assigned shared chores, their strategy of _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") until someone else gives up and does the dishes has proven remarkably _____ (ADJECTIVE).

During car rides, your sibling showed _____ (ADJECTIVE) dedication to calling "shotgun" from _____ (NUMBER) blocks away and arguing over whose _____ (PART OF THE BODY) crossed the imaginary line in the backseat. They also managed to eat the very last _____ (NOUN) in the pantry while leaving the empty box behind like a/an _____ (ANIMAL).

Despite these minor infractions, your sibling receives high marks for always _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") up for you when outsiders give you a hard time, and for making you laugh until _____ (LIQUID) comes out of your _____ (PART OF THE BODY). Keep up the _____ (ADJECTIVE) work!

HOUSEHOLD HUMAN RESOURCES • ANNUAL REVIEW

PERFORMANCE REVIEW: STEP-SIBLING

Ask a partner for each part of speech below before reading the evaluation aloud!

Merging two households is a/an _____ (ADJECTIVE) adventure, and your step-sibling has navigated the transition with _____ (ADJECTIVE) flair. From day one, they introduced exciting new traditions to the family, such as _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") at breakfast and putting _____ (TYPE OF FOOD) on top of perfectly normal _____ (PLURAL NOUN).

In shared bathroom diplomacy, your step-sibling has demonstrated _____ (ADJECTIVE) timing by spending _____ (NUMBER) minutes styling their _____ (PART OF THE BODY) right before everyone needs to leave for _____ (PLACE). They also deserve credit for helping explain both sets of parents' _____ (ADJECTIVE) rules without losing their _____ (NOUN).

For the upcoming year, we recommend fewer debates over who controls the television _____ (NOUN) and more team-ups when _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") around the neighborhood. Your step-sibling is officially promoted to _____ (ADJECTIVE) Ally and Partner-in-_____ (PLURAL NOUN).

HOUSEHOLD HUMAN RESOURCES • ANNUAL REVIEW

PERFORMANCE REVIEW: CHILD

Ask a partner for each part of speech below before reading the evaluation aloud!

This year, our favorite junior team member brought _____ (ADJECTIVE) energy to the household, especially five minutes after bedtime. Their capacity for asking _____ (NUMBER) consecutive questions beginning with "Why does a/an _____ (ANIMAL) have _____ (PLURAL NOUN)?" has kept everyone's brain _____ (ADJECTIVE).

In room maintenance, the employee has developed a/an _____ (ADJECTIVE) filing system that involves shoving all stray _____ (PLURAL NOUN) under the bed and claiming the floor is "mostly _____ (ADJECTIVE)." Meanwhile, their culinary preferences shifted dramatically from loving _____ (TYPE OF FOOD) on Tuesday to declaring it "totally _____ (ADJECTIVE)" by Wednesday evening.

Areas for growth include remembering to put _____ (PLURAL NOUN) in the hamper and not _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") in the hallway. For outstanding achievement in hugs and _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING"), you are awarded an extra scoop of _____ (TYPE OF FOOD)!

HOUSEHOLD HUMAN RESOURCES • ANNUAL REVIEW

PERFORMANCE REVIEW: HUSBAND

Ask a partner for each part of speech below before reading the evaluation aloud!

Over the last twelve months, Husband has performed with _____ (ADJECTIVE) distinction as Chief Jar Opener and Scout of Strange _____ (PLURAL NOUN) in the Night. Whenever a suspicious noise occurs downstairs, he bravely investigates armed only with a/an _____ (NOUN) and his _____ (ADJECTIVE) slippers.

In the kitchen, his signature dish—consisting of _____ (PLURAL NOUN) tossed together with whatever was left in the _____ (NOUN) —earned _____ (ADJECTIVE) reviews, though cleanup required _____ (NUMBER) sponges and a power washer. He also demonstrated impressive focus while _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") sports on television, nodding _____ (ADVERB) whenever asked an important question.

Key objectives for next year include putting dirty _____ (ARTICLE OF CLOTHING) inside the basket rather than three inches beside it, and _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") more date nights. In recognition of his _____ (ADJECTIVE) loyalty, his contract is happily renewed for another _____ (NUMBER) years.

HOUSEHOLD HUMAN RESOURCES • ANNUAL REVIEW

PERFORMANCE REVIEW: WIFE

Ask a partner for each part of speech below before reading the evaluation aloud!

Wife has once again exceeded all expectations as Director of _____ (ADJECTIVE) Planning and Master of Memory. She effortlessly recalls every birthday, anniversary, and the exact _____ (ARTICLE OF CLOTHING) you wore during a conversation in _____ (MONTH) of last year. Her ability to pack for a weekend getaway using _____ (NUMBER) bags while still forgetting nothing is truly _____ (ADJECTIVE).

In collaborative dining decisions, Wife showed _____ (ADJECTIVE) flexibility by saying, "I don't care where we eat," before vetoing _____ (NUMBER) restaurants in favor of _____ (TYPE OF FOOD). She also maintained a/an _____ (ADJECTIVE) collection of decorative throw _____ (PLURAL NOUN) that nobody is actually permitted to sit on.

For the year ahead, we encourage Wife to spend more time _____ (VERB ENDING IN "ING") with her feet up and less time worrying about whether the _____ (PLURAL NOUN) match. She receives our highest rating of " _____ (ADJECTIVE) Beyond Measure" and unlimited _____ (PLURAL NOUN).